"Something To Remember!"

Brian Garner

The 1984-85 school year proposed a challenge for the students at Crawford High. This edition of the Centaur was totally dedicated to giving the students at Crawford High the best summarization of the 1984-85 school year. As you move throughout the Centaur we hope that you will experience a happy feeling.

"Something To Remember," the theme of this book, is a time capsule of the 1984-85 school year. This edition of the Centaur hopes that your understanding of our theme is evident.

Crawford High put forth many proud moments throughout the year such as, football games, rallies, CIF, sports, lunch times, class competitions, and fun times during class. Through all of the excitement, the students at Crawford High grew into young adults. Friendships amongst themselves and teachers were formed, laughter, tears, sadness, and joy, were shared by all.

Unity seemed to be something that will never be forgotten through the eyes of the Colts. Their unity was what inspired teachers to carve and mold them into young adults. Yes, all, every minute of the year was memorable and the year will definitely be "Something To Remember."

Get Excited! Student Life at Crawford was not just exciting, it was fabulous.

The Student Life section includes everything you can possibly think of that has to do with out of class activities. Events such as rallies, homecoming, Halloween, Dr. Dean, Donut Dunk'em, fashions, fads, "What's popular", "Who's popular," ASB Ball were included. Students at Crawford were overwhelming with spirit and enthusiasm for their school.

The school year started off with a bang! Five out of the six fall sports took league titles and all six of them went to CIF.

The classes of '85, '86 and '87, brought back the meaning of excitement to Crawford High. Yes, student life was truly "something to remember."

School an Early Start

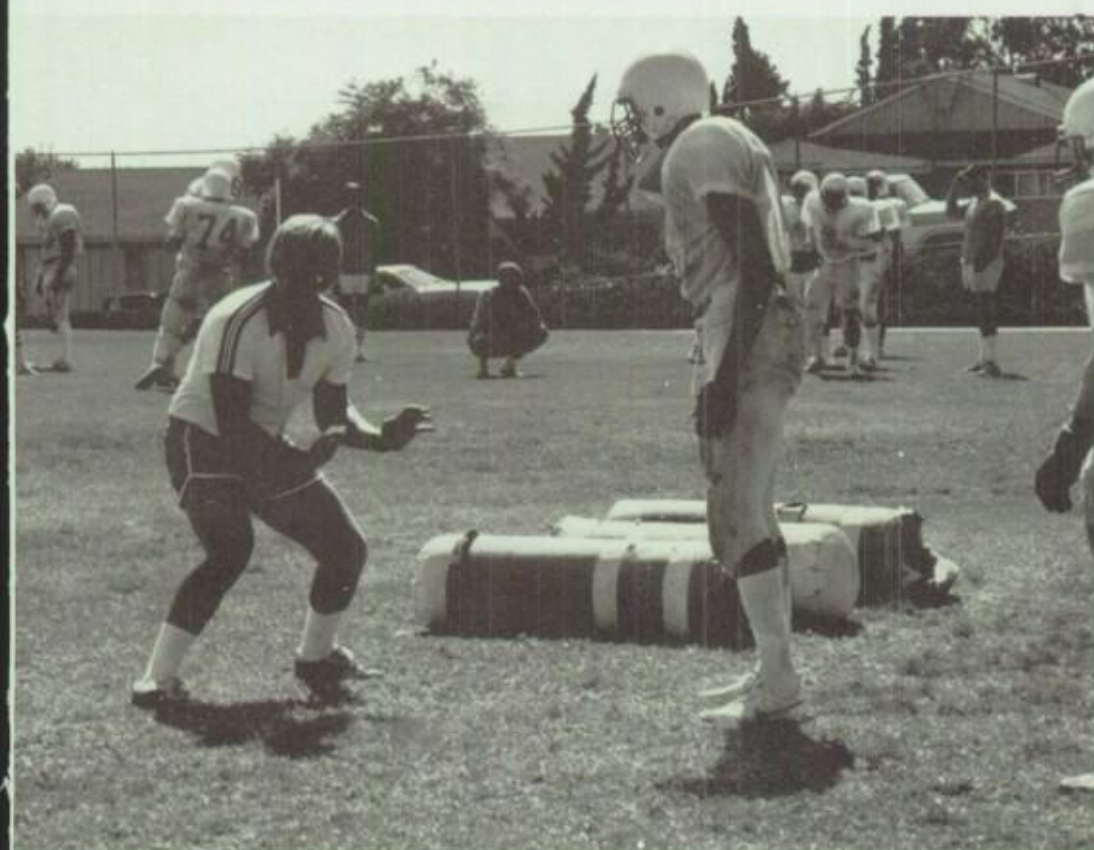

Brian Garner

School started sooner than students expected. In early August, most were greeted by a letter in the mail from our principal, Mr. Fox, and their schedule which would determine their classes for the coming year.

August 21 began Hell Week. It was time for the football players to start their strenuous work outs which would prepare them for their pursuit of the CIF Championship.

Cheer camp from August 12-15 gave the Varsity Cheerleaders' year an early start. They took a trip to Stanford University to learn new ways to cheer the Colts to victory. The J.V. Cheerleaders attended camp at U.C. Santa Barbara. Entering high school was frightening for many sophomores. An all school orientation, held on September 6 welcomed the new sophomores, and gave them a chance to get to know the returning juniors and seniors. It also gave them the chance to learn about Crawford's clubs and opportunities. This was one of the many activities that helped Crawford kick off a terrific new year.

The Thrill of Homecoming

The excitement of selecting the Homecoming Court surrounded the Crawford campus. On Wednesday, October 24, the 1984-85 Homecoming Court candidates were nominated in Senior American Government classes, Junior U.S. History classes, and Sophomore English classes. On Friday, October 26, the flyers listing the names of the candidates were passed out to the classes. The Junior and Sophomore classes each elected one couple and the Seniors elected three couples.

The ballots were counted by the A.S.B. and the results were announced by Julie Peterson and Marcia Zipp at the Donut Dunkum' on Tuesday, October 30. The Auroras pinned the Homecoming Court with carnations. The Court was introduced in formal attire on Friday, November 2, at the rally. At the end of the rally, everyone voted for King and Queen. The results were announced at the football game that night, and Darrick West and Suzette Leyba were crowned King and Queen.

Homecoming Week: Spirit

After all of the anticipation, Homecoming week was here! Much excitement started to build, and this year's theme, Up, Up and Away carried throughout the school as Crawford's spirit rose sky high!

This tremendous week began Monday, with a class competition. It was time for Sophs, Juniors, and Seniors to cram into red, white and blue Volkswagen Bugs. The Senior Class won, cramming an incredible 19 people into their blue Bug.

The waiting was over for court nominees, because Tuesday morning was the Donut Dunk'em. Here the court was announced, along with the Aurora's Sweetheart Larry Cooper.

Halloween fell right in the middle of Homecoming Week, but that only made spirit sky rocket as Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors alike dressed up and joined in the Halloween fun.

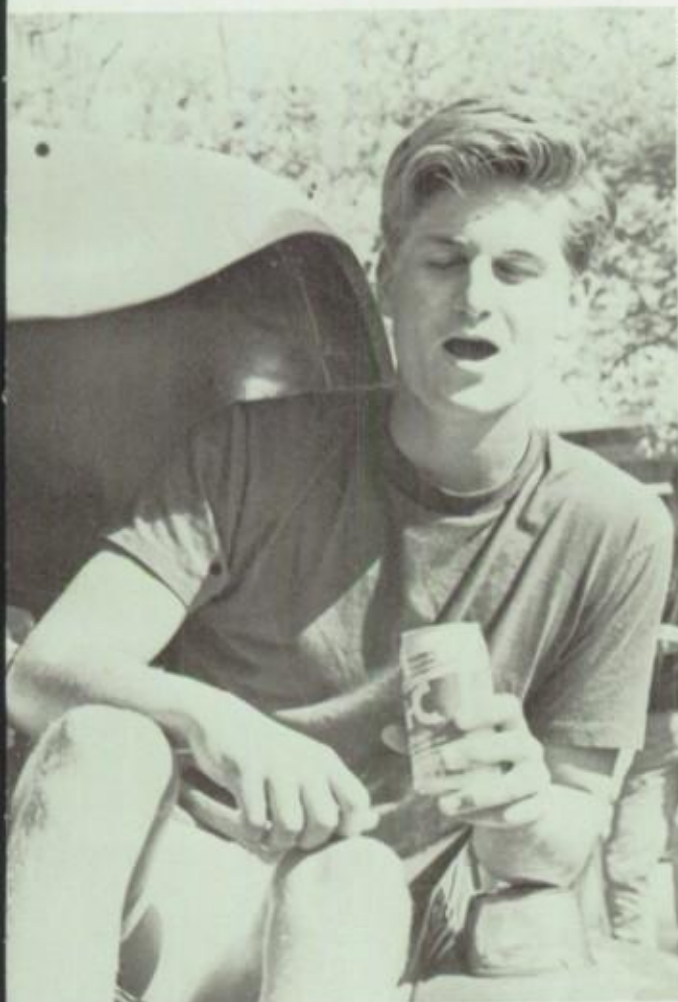

A Chubby Bunny competition was held for the court on Thursday. This consisted of shoving numerous marshmallows in their partners mouth and them still being able to say "Chubby Bunny"! Senior Prince and Princess Darrick West and Melinda Meza won this competition, Darrick having 9 marshmallows in his mouth and still talking.

The sky was the limit on Friday as this spectacular week came to a close. Students packed the gym to attend the Homecoming Rally where everyone got the chance to vote for the 1984 Homecoming King and Queen.

Our Colts stomped the San Diego High Covers and scored 47 points against them. Immediately following the game, the Homecoming Dance was held in the gym, and with midnight came the end of a Homecoming that carried Crawford Up, Up and Away!

High Spirit Led

A certain electricity filled Mesa Junior College Stadium on Friday, November 2, 1984. It was Crawford's undying spirit all fired up and ready to help lead the Colts to victory. In the first half, the Colts racked up 41 points as the clock ticked 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 to Halftime.

Leading off the parade of floats were the Varsity Cheerleaders atop a bright blue truck. Following were trucks full of returning Cheerleaders. The floats came next, the Senior float, a Hot Air Balloon, a Giant Kite was the Junior float and winning the competition was the Sophomore float, a Butterfly.

Excitement peaked as the court circled the field and approached the Crawford side. Returning King and Queen Kelvin Ross and Kathy McGough crowned the 1984 Homecoming Queen, Suzette Leyba and King Darrick West.

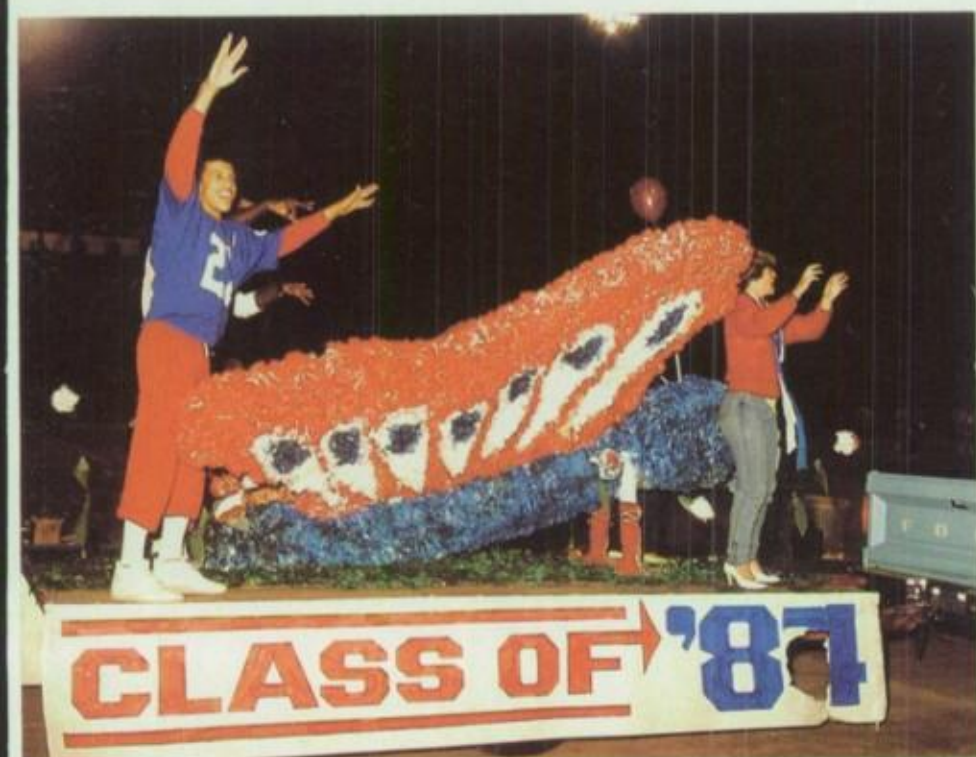

The Colts dominated the second half of the game, and San Diego only scored once. As the clock ran out, spirited Colts returned to school and attended the Homecoming Dance in the gym, a fitting ending to the most special week all year.

Colts to Victory

Crawford Students Put

The Colts proved their Halloween spirit by spending long and hard hours preparing their costumes. There weren't just the usual ghosts, witches, and vampires, there was also the unusual; a bumblebee, Alice in Wonderland, MGMs and a tomato. There were many other costumes that showed the students' hard work. Even some of the staff showed their Halloween spirit by dressing up.

At the mini-rally, the crowd helped the A.S.B. decide the winners of the annual costume contest. The costumes were judged in three different categories and the winners were: most original — Julie Estrada, cutest — "The Nerds" — James Tetley, Ed Goldhammer, and Mark Schumann, and the best group — "The Breakdancers."

After the contest was over, the varsity cheerleaders performed a song routine to help get everyone into the Halloween spirit. Everyone had a great time at the rally and proved that the Crawford Halloween spirit is here to stay.

On November 7, at 7:30 p.m., a Crawford tradition continued. A packed auditorium eagerly awaited the World's Foremost Hypnotist, Dr. Michael Dean. Senior President Jenelle Robinson and ASB President Marcia Zipp picked the names of 50 volunteers, 25 boys and 25 girls, to come up on stage. Out of the 50 that were selected, 20 of the best subjects remained on stage.

After Dr. Dean's magical touch put the subjects under, they stole the show. They went to a sad movie and cried; they went to a funny movie and laughed. After they saw a naked audience and danced through the Roaring Twenties and Gay Nineties it was time for the subjects to bring out their hidden talents. Dennis Ellis impersonated Mr. Fox, Coach Miller, former President Nixon, Eddie Murphy, and Michael Jackson. Many other subjects showed their hidden talents from acting as the lead singer of their favorite group to being the world's greatest break dancer.

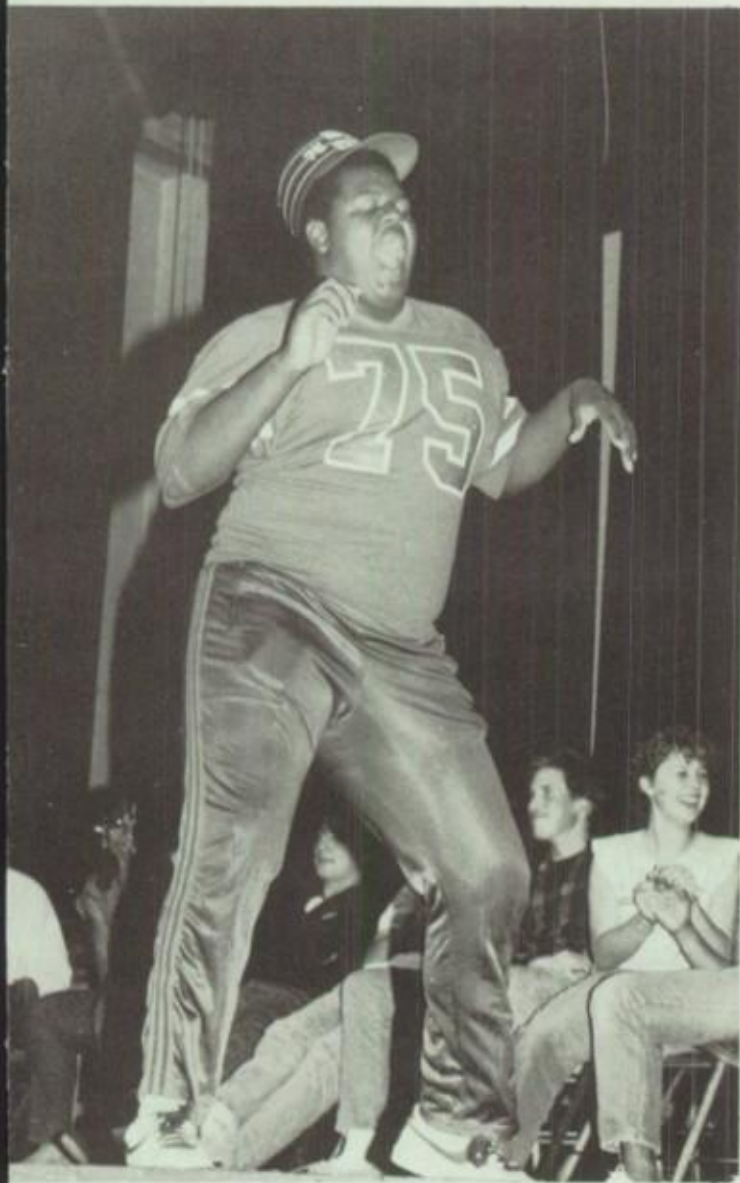

When asked if they were hypnotized, some subjects said they were, a few weren't really sure, and those who said they weren't were immediately put under by a shake of the hand or by the circulating motion of the microphone.

Though those who were hypnotized don't remember doing the things they did, everyone else will remember that night full of laughter and fun.

It was everywhere. A contagious excitement that was at every rally, event, activity and competition. A type of enthusiasm that never died. It was that Crawford spirit that had come alive.

This year more than ever our spirit shone through. Attending sporting events with friends united the school and helped to cheer the Colts on to victory.

Being spirited gave everyone a chance to go a little crazy and be a little loud, and this enthusiasm helped to bring the school together and keep our Crawford pride high.

This has been a great year, all the things we talked about. They were really special, I hope you never forget them - I won't! We are finally doing it - this is it. The only thing you will have to remember me by is what I'm writing and my picture. Hopefully I'll see you again.

Special Times Were

At 11:05 the bell rang. The halls became filled with students on their way to their favorite class. The class that no one missed, lunchtime, was a time to get the little trivial things done that couldn't be taken care of before school. It was also a time to go to the library and cram for the test in fourth period.

Most people spent their lunch sitting and talking with their friends. They had to catch up on the latest gossip. They also ate with their friends. Eating was a thing everyone liked to do during lunch. People were found eating in a number of places. Some people took advantage of the off campus privilege and ate at one of the many local fast food joints. Some people even went home for a home cooked meal. Others, stayed at school and enjoyed the school lunches or pigged out on junk food from the Student Store.

There were many other things for people to do during lunch. They could attend one of the many club meetings, go to rallies in the gym, or participate in class competitions. The great times everyone spent during lunch will never be forgotten.

With first period came the start of a new day. Students could be heard talking and laughing as they walked to their classes. Everyone discussed plans for the weekend, telephone conversations, and new loves.

Conversations continued into the classrooms, but teachers quickly put an end to that. All of a sudden students had to wake up and get down to some serious studying. Some had a slight problem waking up while others were awake and ready to work.

Since you've been away,
I've been down and lonely.
Since you've been away,
I've been thinking of you.
Trying to understand,
The reason you left me.
What were you going through?

I'm missing you,
Tell me why the road turns.
I'm missing you,
Tell me why the road turns.

As I look around,
I see things that remind me.
Just to see your smile,
made my heart fill with joy.
I still recall,
all those dreams we shared together.
Where did you run to, boy?

I'm missing you,
tell me why the road turns.
I'm missing you,
tell me why the road turns.

Sometimes I've wondered,
I didn't understand.
Just where you were trying to go,
Only you knew the plan.
And I tried to be there,
But you wouldn't let me in.
But now you've gone away, boy,
I feel so broken hearted,
I knew the day we started,
That we were meant to be,
If only you would let me.

I've cried so many tears,
Gotta face all my fears,
We let time slip away,
I need you boy,
Here today.

There was so much you gave,
To my heart,
To my soul.
There was so much of your dreams,
That were never told.
You had so much hope,
for a brighter day.
Why were you my flower,
Flocked away?

I'm missing you,
Tell me why the road turns.
I'm missing you!

Tonight is forever

On February 22, the entire student body was invited to attend the A.S.B. Ball at the Sea World Pavillion. At 8:00 p.m., the pavillion began to fill with couples dressed in formal attire ready for a night full of entertainment, excitement, and fun.

While some people were dancing to the music of Sammy Diaz and the Tears, others were savoring the taste of the delicious hors' d'ouvers. Among other things there were potato skins, strawberry mousse, an assortment of cheeses, taquitos, and fresh fruit.

Finally, midnight arrived and couples began to return to their cars after an unforgettable evening.

ACADEMICS

Throughout the history of Crawford High School, academics have been the most important part of school life. The 1984-85 school year was a year that kept the tradition going. Education at Crawford was an education of excellence. The staff was the best ever and they poured out their knowledge to their students. Special programs were offered. The school was the finest magnet school for business, and various business programs were offered. There were many academic changes throughout the year. The school day was lengthened, there was a 30 minute of homework (each course) assignment, and students grade point average requirements was raised for participants in organizations and athletics. Changes encouraged students to strive for excellence in classes and left them with "Something To Remember."

The Class of 1985 Valedictorians

School — like everything else in life is just what you make it. It can be fun if you let it. Getting good grades is immaterial if your're not having fun. The students, the faculty, and yes, even the administration makes life more than bearable. I have a lot of classes where it's easy to just sit and laugh. That's what makes Crawford the best school in San Diego, it's easy to have fun while your're learning. They say that our times here in high school are supposed to be some of our most memorable. I sure will have a lot of good memories . . . Sam Wong

Brian Garner

Brian Garner

Earning good grades goes beyond the motivation to excel. Becoming Valedictorian was the result of my having an outstanding support system, not just in the past 3 years at Crawford, but throughout my 12 years in public school. Learning is the fulfillment of a two-way interaction between student and teacher. I was fortunate to have had several inspiring teachers who aroused my curiosity for learning and provided me with a sound educational foundation for the years ahead. Additionally, my family and friends were instrumental in providing the proper setting which encouraged my success in school.

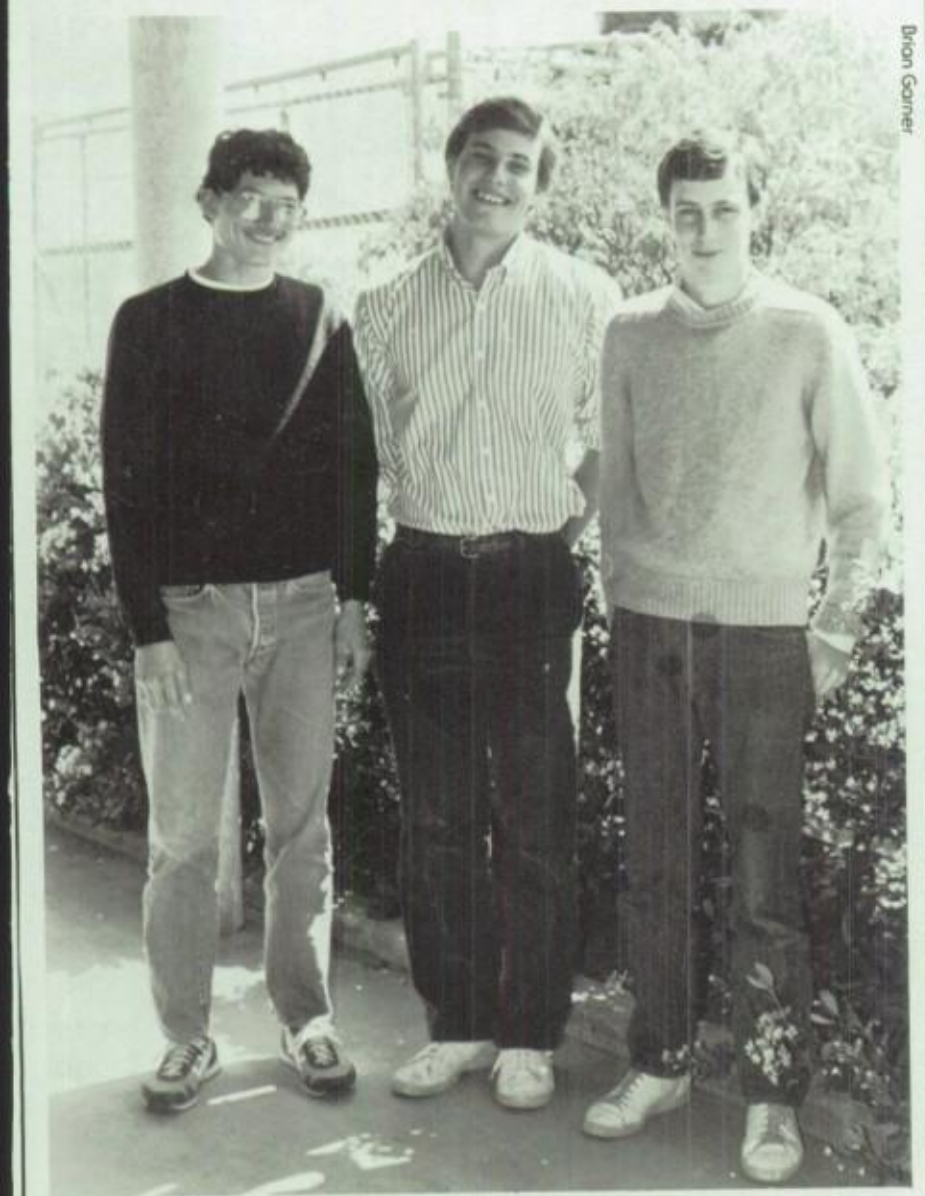

Part of the learning process has to do with recognizing realistic goals and pursuing them. Success is not always immediate or entirely possible. Setbacks should be a realistic expectation for any one who sets out with a difficult goal in mind. The essence of human progress is the overcoming of failures and trying again . . . John Rabin

The 1985 Bank of America Award finalists were: Brendan Works, John Rabin and Bryan Harris.

The California Scholastic Federation was a club for those students who excelled in academic courses. To qualify for C.S.F. a student needed a total of 10 academic points. These points were determined from the number of A and B grades he or she received in specific courses. C.S.F. sponsored many field trips this year including a trip to see the movie Amadeus and trip to Disneyland. Being a member of C.S.F. is an honor many colleges recognized.

Bank of America sponsored a state-wide Awards Competition in which many schools throughout the county participated. The competition consisted of two tests. The first, a zone test in which the students competed against students from other local schools. The winners of the zone test went on to the second test, the final competition vying for the first prize of $2,000.

Contestants were chosen in 3 fields of education; Applied and Fine Arts, Liberal Arts, and Science and Mathematics. The contestants from Crawford were Brendan Works, Bryan Harris and John Rabin in the respective fields. They were nominated by their teachers to compete in the competition. In order to qualify, each contestant must have had a G.P.A. of 3.0 or better and have attained at least 6 credits in the field for which they were nominated.

English — A Steady Course in Our Lives

Throughout the three short years at Crawford students were required to take courses that would satisfy the English requirement. There were many types of courses offered to fulfill this requirement besides just plain old English 1-2. For Sophomores there were advanced classes such as Advanced and I.S. English. Juniors had a choice from such classes as American Literature, Advanced or I.S. American Literature. For Seniors, the choices were English Literature and Advanced Placement Literature, and Writers Workshop.

Many of these courses offered students a chance to build necessary skills that would help them in college such as note taking and outlining.

Math — the Concept of the Future

With computers becoming more and more common throughout the country, many students chose to take mathematics classes that would help them to achieve in this field. This, coupled with the School Board's 'back to basics' plan brought improved teaching and classes to Crawford. Students were given the choice of classes ranging from consumer math to advanced math and trigonometry.

There were computer courses offered at the same time. Students were given the choice of learning just the basics of computing or, for the more advanced students, using the basic skills learned to progress into such classes as computer applications and data processing.

Science and Students — A Chemical Reaction

With A Positive Outcome

Just as computers were the concept of the future so was the field of science. Many students who wished to go on to a career in the science field were able to choose from various courses that ranged from Biology and Physiology to Advanced Chemistry and Physics. These courses supplied the base from which students could branch out into the career of their choice, whether it was an occupation as a doctor or as a Biochemical Engineer.

Social Studies — a Learning Look at the Past

World History, U.S. History, and American Government — these were just a few of the social studies classes offered at Crawford. These courses offered students a look at the history of the world, America, and the inner workings of our country. World History taught us about the formation of civilization from the beginning to the present. U.S. History followed this course with a look at the founding of our country and the events that led up to what we call America today. In our senior year the American Government class explained the inner workings of our government. This gave us a better understanding of what the world we were about to enter was like.

The 1984 San Diego County Academic Decathlon consisted of students from throughout the county competing for recognition of academic excellence. It was developed 17 years ago in Orange County in order to provide such recognition to 11th and 12th grade students. This was San Diego's 2nd year in the nationwide competition.

Each of the 42 participating high schools sent a 9 member team consisting of 3 "A" students, 3 "B" students and 3 "C" students. Each student competed in 10 academic events: 6 multiple choice exams in economics, fine arts, grammar and literature, mathematics, science and social science; 3 communications tests — a written essay, a prepared and impromptu speech and an oral interview; and the final event of the day, the Super Quiz.

The Super Quiz was based on the theme of futurism as told by John Naisbitt in his book, Megatrends. Each team member was given the opportunity to answer 3 questions during the quiz. Crawford tied for 2nd place in this event with a score of 19 out of a possible 27 points.

The team was formed this year by Dr. Schuch, the school advisor to the decathlon team. Stan Wong summed up the feelings of the team towards the decathlon when he said, "The Academic Decathlon enables students of diverse academic backgrounds to compete in a milieu where academic excellence and well rounded educations prove to be stepping stones toward success."

Fine Arts — An Outlet For Creativity

For those students with a more artistic flair, elective courses such as art were more appealing. Students in art classes were taught how to draw using several points of view utilizing different types of materials such as paint, charcoal and pencils. These classes helped to release that creative part that lies dormant in many of us.

Students were afforded the opportunity to enroll in various classes that would teach them skills of a certain trade. They had their choice of wood shop, metal works, drafting, auto shop and graphic arts. Each class taught them the particular skills needed such as how to run a printing press or how to clean a carburetor. Many students commented that besides being informative the classes were enjoyable, something not usually found in school.

The Special Education Students In Rm. 511

The Special Education students in room 511 were an integral part of the campus. During school hours, the students were learning vocational skills in the community. They journeyed from Crawford to local businesses supporting the vocational curriculum. At Villa View Hospital students worked in the purchasing department labeling inventory and stocking shelves. They volunteered their services to the American Cancer Society by stuffing 12,000 smoke-out kits for the 'Great American Smoke-Out.'

In the classroom, they learned important domestic skills that enabled them to become more independent adults. The curriculum focused on cooking simple meals, doing laundry and budgeting their money.

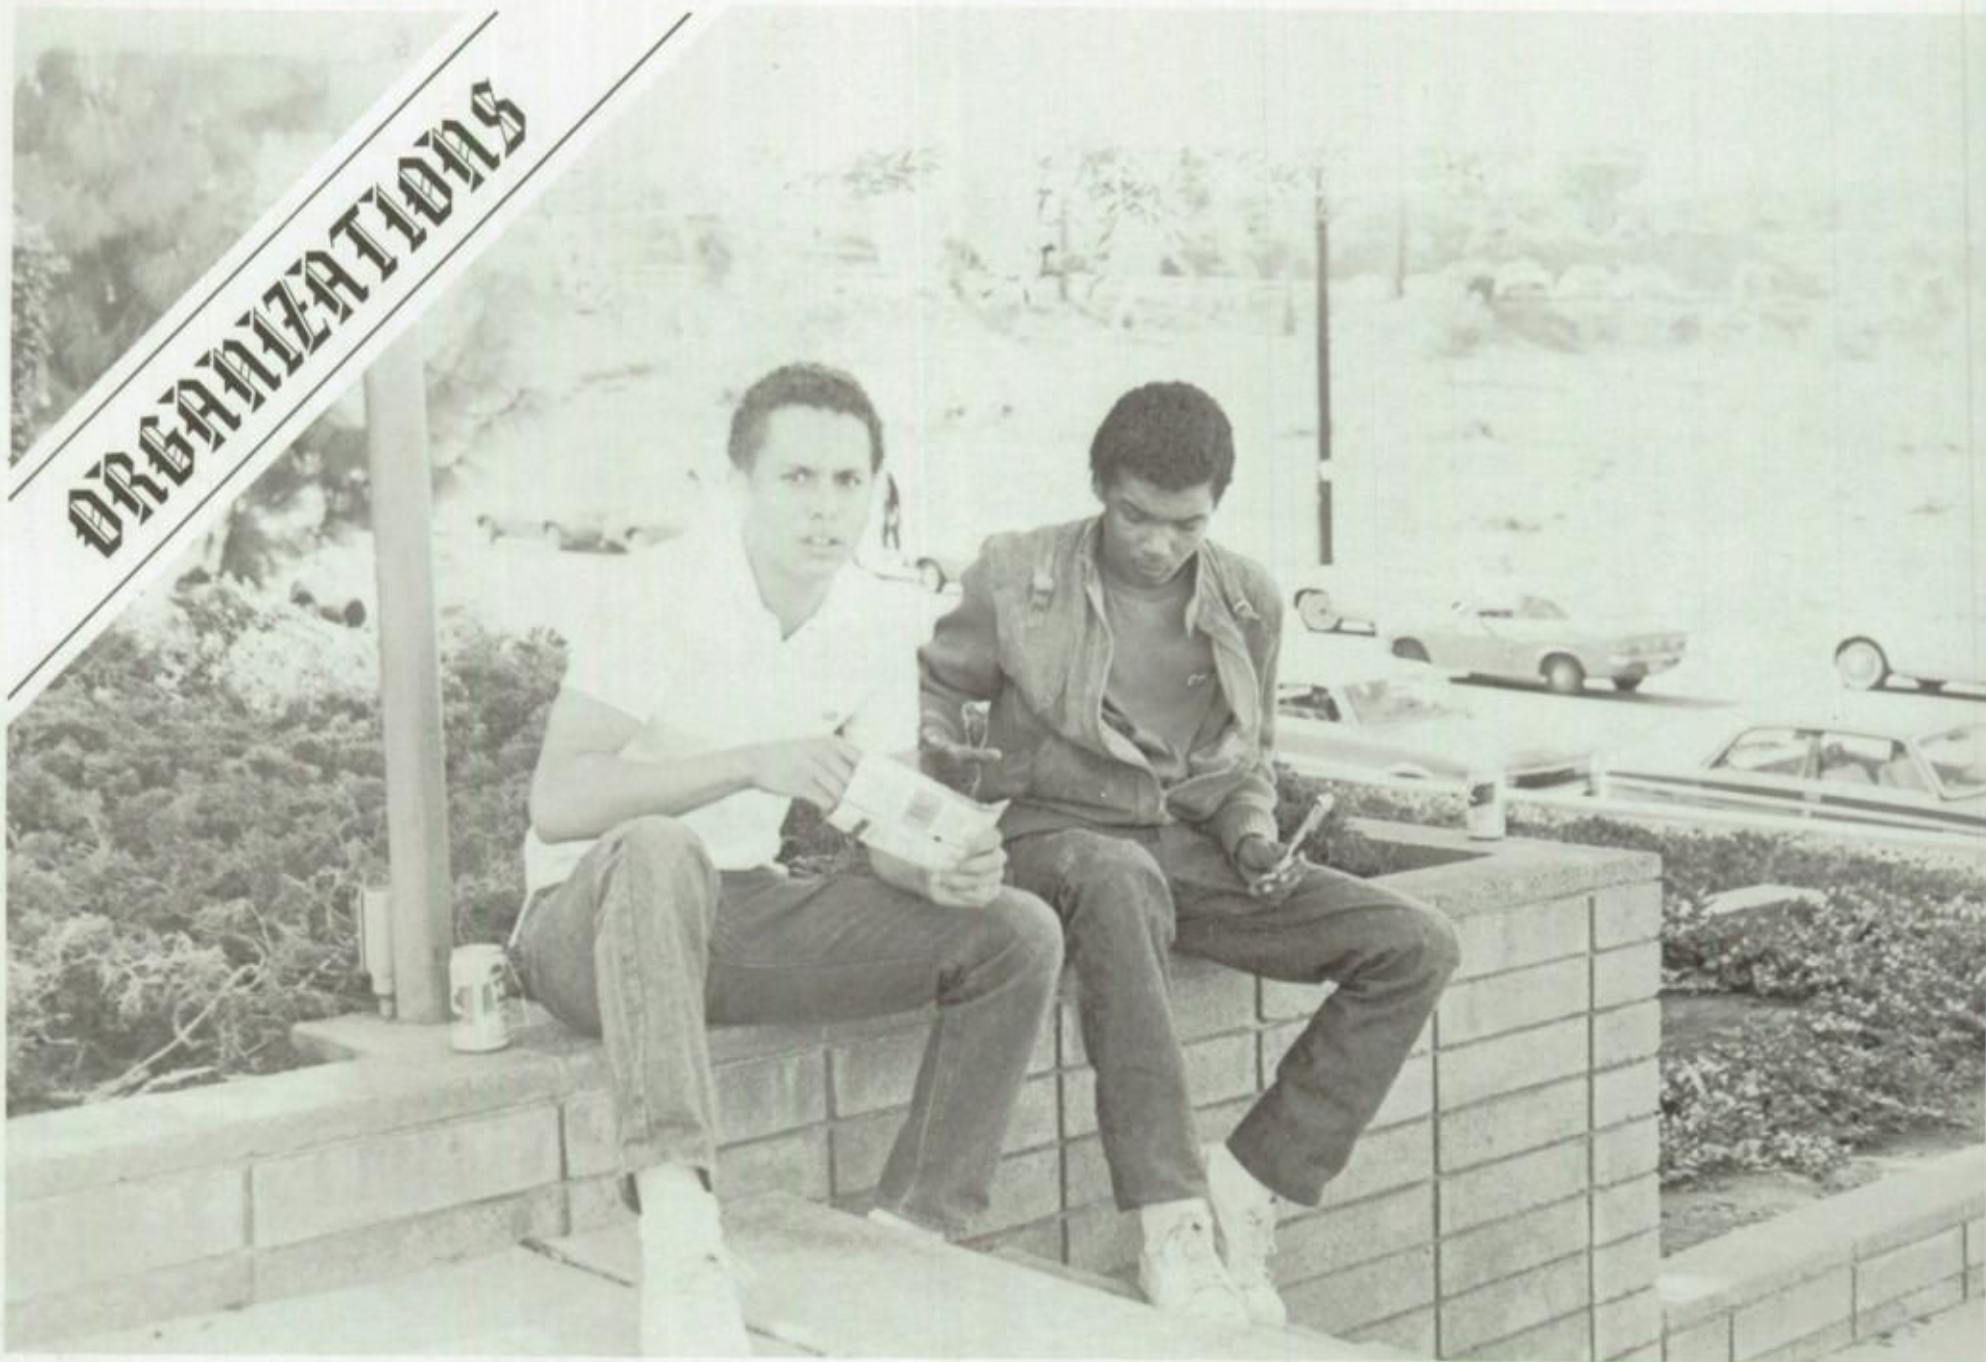

This curriculum may differ from the traditional 'book learning.' However, it provides special students with challenging experiences and prepares them for life.

ORGANIZATIONS

One of the most exciting aspects of Crawford High School was the active involvement on the part of the students. Clubs and organizations had as many as ninety to a hundred members.

To be involved in some of the clubs required a certain grade point average or that you be enrolled in a special class. There were some clubs that only required that you be spirited and be involved in the success of Crawford High School.

The type of activities club members were involved in ranged from hosting of a special event to charity work for the March of Dimes. There were clubs that led the spirit of Crawford, and also ones that provided music for entertaining and competition. There were clubs for the publication of the newspaper and the yearbook. Academic orientated clubs on campus included languages and academic achievement. Your favorite hobbies were included in some of the clubs at Crawford — anything from surfing to cheerleading.

Over 450 students participated in various clubs and organizations on campus. Being involved was truly an exciting part of Crawford High School and will definitely be one of the most memorable experiences.

Various Clubs Involved Students

The Friends of the Library was a club that helped to raise money for Crawford's library. They sponsored such things as a readathon and the end of the year book sale. With the money that they made, they bought special and needed equipment for our library.

The Art Club was for students who took interest and had some ability in art. They made drawings and submitted them to many different competitions in Crawford and San Diego. They held meetings every week during lunch so that they could work on their art work, plan fundraisers and discuss club activities.

Future Business Leaders of America or FBLA was an important club for future businesspersons. The club's purpose was to promote interest mainly with the business skills involved in businesses. It was the first year that the club had ever affiliated with the national organization. They participated in national competition with other FBLA members.

Super Personal Intercultural Experience or SPICE was an organization whose purpose was to improve the understanding between cultures and groups. It played a helpful role in improving the relations at Crawford. During the summer, some members attended a brotherhood camp where they discussed some of our country's ethnic problems. They also sponsored Crawford's multicultural fair.

Clubs gave students a variety of subjects to learn more about. They also gave members a sense of contribution to our school. The Colts needed clubs like these.

Clubs Lived Up to Crawford's Good Name

The Key Club was a service organization sponsored by the Kiwanis. They supported the community by volunteering service to the Leukemia Society Youth Council and March of Dimes. Their main emphasis program was called "Project Magic." In this program Key Clubs of San Diego helped muscular dystrophy victims by many different fund raising activities. Other projects that were done throughout the year brought service to our school, community and churches. The Key Club gave valuable contributions to Crawford and the community.

The Speech Team was a club where students could voice their opinions on a variety of subjects. They had two topics from which they could choose to speak about. The topics were either political or dramatic. Before the competitions they wrote out notes, researched and prepared for what they would talk about. They participated in many competitions through the year.

Chorus was made up of a group of students who wanted to improve their singing skills. With these newly learned skills they entertained us with a few performances. Some of these performances included the holiday program and spring concert.

Another musical group was the Jazz Band. The group played only bass instruments and bass guitars. Their music was a collection of pop and jazz numbers. The Jazz Band went to competitions in Los Angeles but were also seen in the Crawford auditorium playing in the holiday and spring concerts.

These clubs supported Crawford and the community in various ways. They helped to spread Crawford's name and upheld a great reputation of which we could be proud.

Clubs Were Active

The Surf Club was designed for the students who had shown knowledge and an interest in the sport of surfing. Members met about three times a week at 6:00 in the morning throughout the year. Even during the winter months they could be found with a surfboard catching only the best waves. Through this club the members got the opportunity to work on their surfing skills on a regular basis.

The Science Explorers were a group of students who promoted interest in outdoor activities. The members, led by Bill Gookin, went orienteering, which was similar to a run and hike combined. They used a map and had to find their way to certain checkpoints. Other activities included a trip to the Grand Canyon during spring vacation and several short camping trips to the desert and mountains.

These two clubs greatly benefited their members. They enabled the students to participate in sports which they could always use in their active lives.

The Lettermen's Club was made up of both boys and girls who had earned a varsity letter. They were able to use their highly developed athletic abilities to earn this letter in any varsity sport. To qualify as a member of this club you had to keep a grade point average above 2.0 during the sports season. Varsity members did a great job in demonstrating their athletic ability. We received many awards during the year. Way to go Colts!

Clubs Kept Doors Open to the World

Students participated in many different clubs on campus. The language clubs and AFS were clubs for the students at Crawford. They promoted more interest and knowledge in people and countries outside of the U.S. They did this through the exploration of different languages, cultures and by hosting students from other countries.

The National Spanish Honor Society was a group of students who were recognized as having made outstanding achievement in the Spanish language. There were meetings twice a month where the students could come and practice their Spanish. They also had parties and special activities where they could further explore the Spanish culture.

The German Club helped to promote interest in the German culture and language. They participated in such activities as the multicultural day where they presented different types of German food. Also during the time when German class was held, you could hear many voices singing in German.

The Latin Club was formed to promote a better understanding of the Roman culture and its contributions to modern society. They participated in many activities including Crawford's multicultural day.

The French Club helped students to increase their knowledge of the French culture. Students who were enrolled in a French class were welcome to join. The members attended French movies, ate at French restaurants and participated in other French activities.

AFS, or the American Field Service, was an organization that helped to promote friendly relations between the United States and other countries. Through AFS, students were able to spend a summer or a year in a foreign country. Over the summer there were three students who went abroad before their senior year. Anna Clawson went to Japan, Kim Shaw went to Venezuela and Anne Marie West went to Panama. For the school year we had Joyce Brophy from Peru attend Crawford. Other AFS activities included participation in Homecoming, the AFS weekend and a trip to Knotts Berry Farm.

The Many Faces of Productions

Productions was a talented group of performers. All had the ability to act out any comedy, drama or musical that their teacher Mr. Van Buskirk assigned them. The group was small and there were many new members but they worked hard and presented to us some marvelous plays.

The year's first play was titled Mrs. McThing. It was a well presented comedy which was thoroughly enjoyed by all who saw it.

Acting wasn't the only thing in which the members were in charge of. They also designed and prepared their own costumes and sets. Each member's contribution kept the drama department's excellent reputation for hard work and good performances.

Throughout the school year the ASB worked on getting Crawford students involved, to have pride in and support their school. Another good goal was to improve relations between the staff and students.

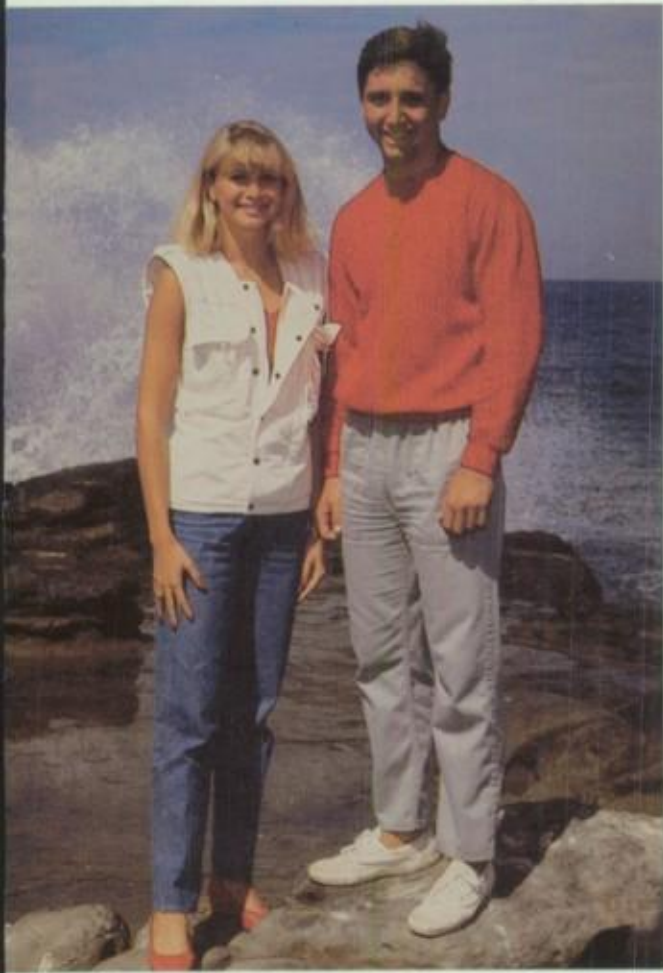

The members were an elected group of students, chosen by the Student Body. The group was made up of commissioners, class officers and aids. Under the guidance of Walter Fairley, Advisor, and Marcia Zipp, President, the ASB made sure that the students were able to have one of their most beneficial and fun years of high school.

Some of their first projects included having the school lockers and the quad painted, sponsoring school dances such as the Sadie Hawkins dance and Homecoming. For the purpose of improving human relations at Crawford there was an Ultimate Expressions week and Staff Appreciation week.

The ASB with all its energetic and creative members did a great job in boosting spirit and improving relations at Crawford!

Auroras was a service organization that helped our school and community. The club was made up of selected senior girls.

Throughout the year they hosted various school activities and participated in numerous social events. They wore blue dresses, which they made, while performing these hostess events.

Larry Coover, the 1984-85 Aurora sweetheart, was announced at the Donut Dunk'em during Homecoming week. The Donut Dunk'em along with the 1984 senior annual party, and the graduation assembly are some of the events in which auroras have assisted.

The Marching Band performed at home football games and in parades. They also played at basketball games, rallies, and other school events.

Madrigals were a group of the best singers at Crawford. They performed at many exciting events during the year including the Donut Dunk'em, the holiday program and the spring concert. They also had a special activity where they went to various hospitals to sing and spread holiday cheer.

Both groups carried on the long standing tradition of producing good music for Crawford and the community.

The Pacer Staff produced a monthly paper informing Crawford students and staff of the sports, news, issues and events around the campus and community. Like true reporters they dug into subjects which they felt students wanted or needed to know.

Almost the entire Pacer Staff was new this year. Despite this fact, advisor Don Mayfield and the staff worked hard to produce entertaining and informative publications. The Pacer was only 10¢ or free with an ASB card. Each issue was looked forward to with great anticipation by the total population of Crawford High.

Pep Clubs Kept Spirit High

The Junior Varsity Pep Squad was a select group of sophomores at Crawford. They led cheers and performed dances to fire up the crowd and JV teams during games and rallies. These spirited young ladies were the pride

Varsity cheerleaders were present at all games, meets and matches in an effort to promote spirit and enthusiasm among participants and spectators alike. Cheers and song routines were perfected in their period one class and during many after school practices.

The 1984-85 Centaur Staff undertook with great pride, the production of our most memorable book, the Crawford Centaur.

Paula Ann Bayles, Editor in Chief, along with some helpful hints from Jay Brewer, advisor, gave the staff support, help and leadership. This enabled the staff to produce a book Crawford students could be proud of and enjoy.

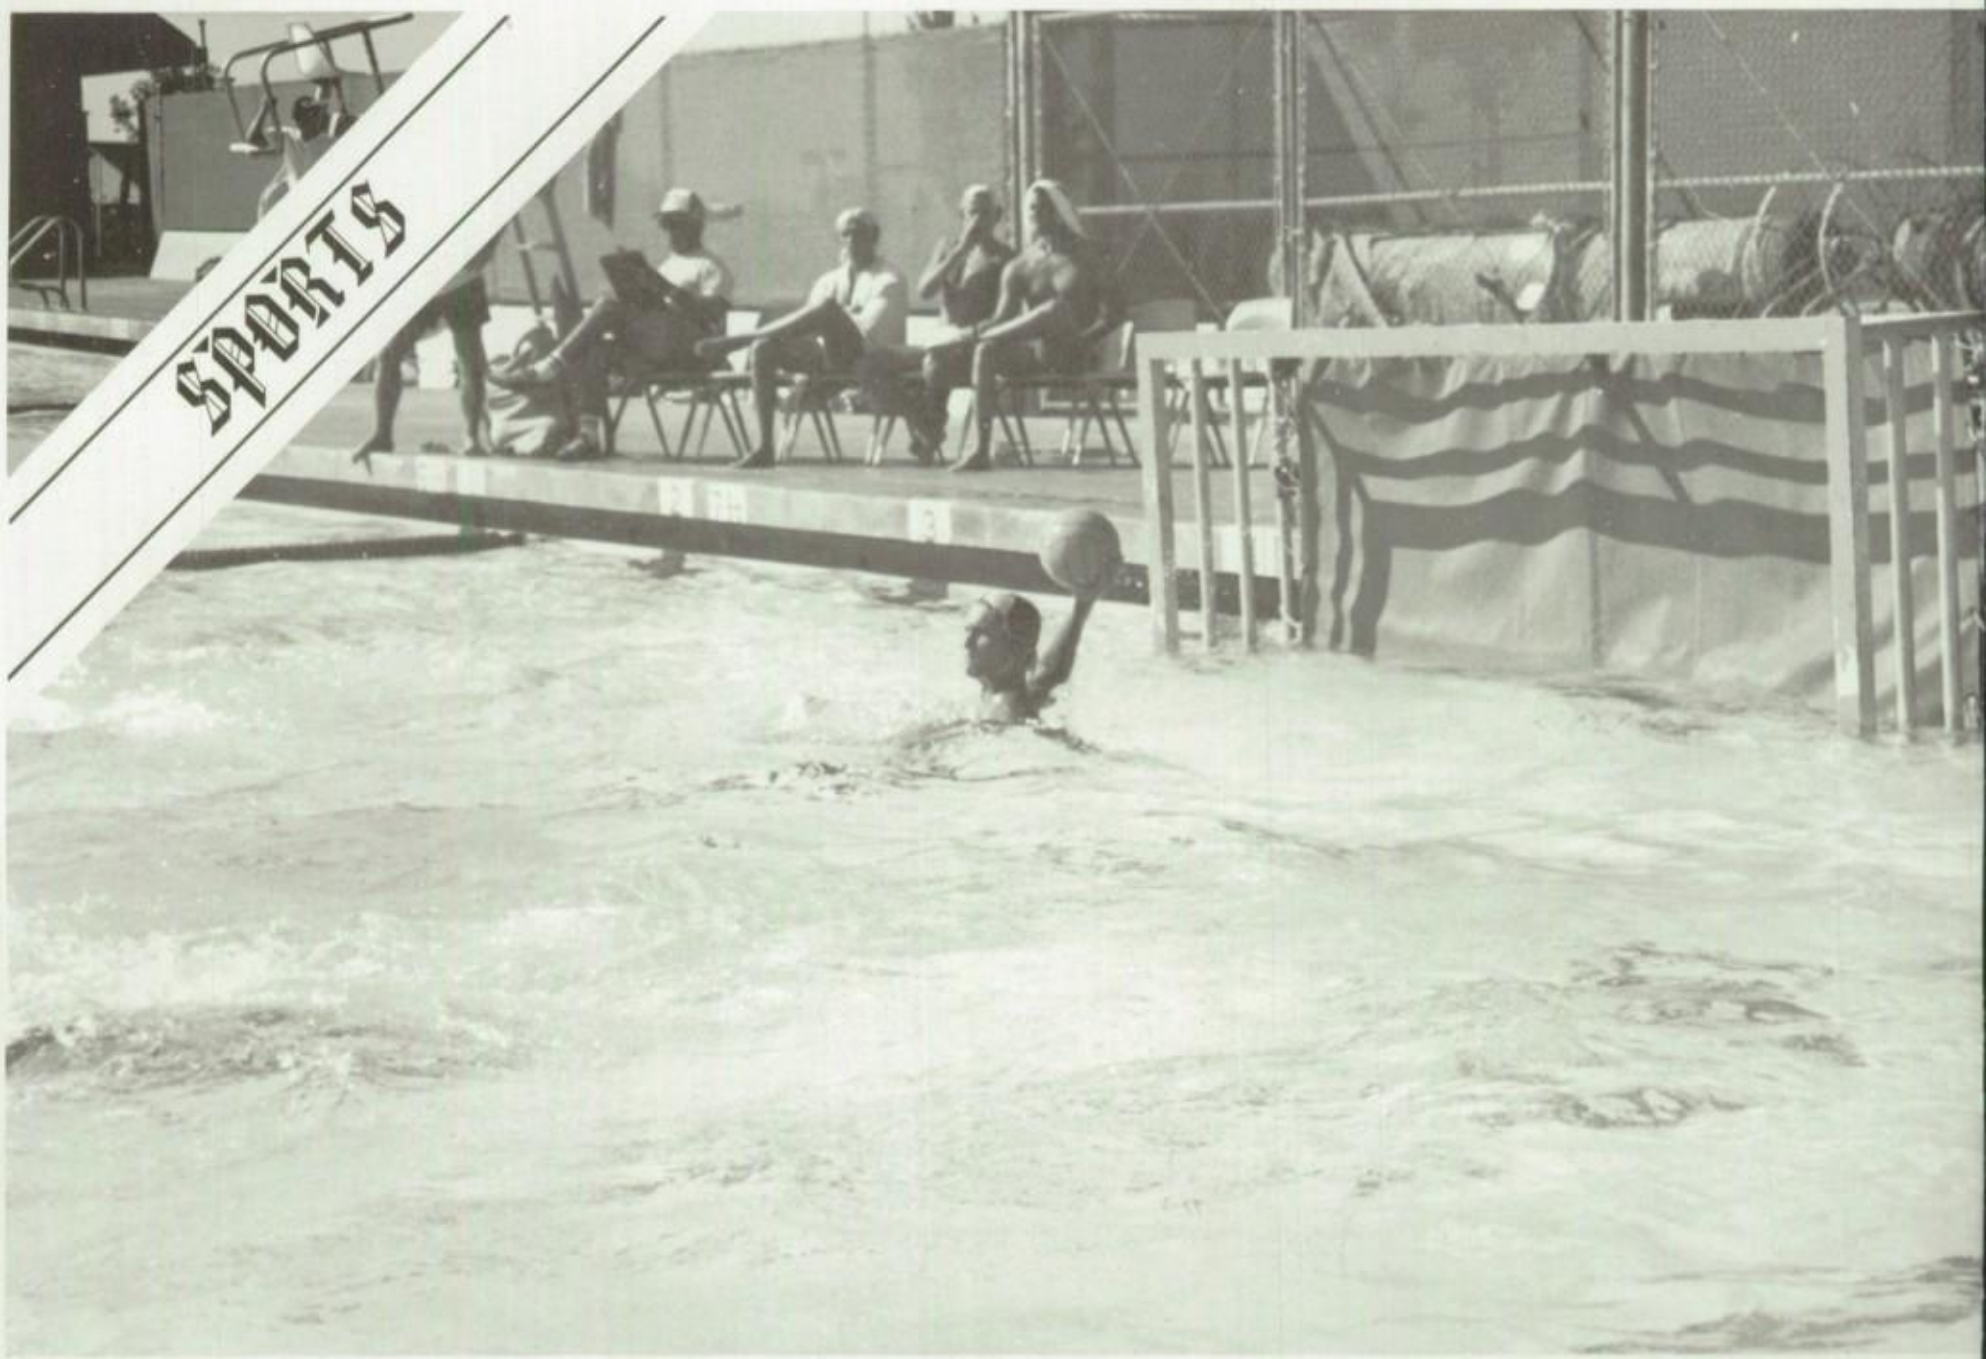

Deadlines were a hectic time for all but the staff worked together and got the job done.

Photographers could be seen throughout the year taking pictures day and night of groups, individuals and activities. On various occasions yearbook business had to come first but this was a sacrifice the Centaur Staff had to make. At the end of the year when the books were delivered tremendous feelings of self satisfaction were enjoyed by all staff members.

They had truly produced "something to remember."

SPORTS

Go! Fight! Win! The Colts are known for their enthusiasm and sportsmanship.

Every athlete knows the meaning of the words discipline, teamwork, and practices. To be on a winning team in any sport requires that you think of yourself as a winner!

There are fans and parents that support the team from day one until the end of the season. They deserve recognition for their hard work as well as their sore throats.

Being on a team has many memorable experiences. We all have something to remember knowing we had such enthusiastic athletic teams.

The Varsity Football Team led by Coach Chris Miller, was tough. They started in August getting into shape. The coaches called it conditioning week, but the players called it "Hell Week."

Our team started off the season well, winning four of their first five games. Their opening game was a night game against San Dieguito, which Crawford easily won 33-7. The second game was against Mission Bay, which was also a one-sided game, Crawford winning 33-0. The toughest game the football team played was against long time rival, Hoover High. The lead changed many times. With the help of a run-back by Myron Williams, and a safety toward the end of the game, Crawford took yet another victory.

Some outstanding returning varsity players were: Dennis Ellis and Mark Cook on defense. On offense it was Jim Tetley, Darrick West, Tim Staninger and Rick Anderson. Playing both offense and defense was Ed Goldhammer. Other outstanding players, were: Scott Northeimer Myron Williams and Mark Hayes. These players all contributed greatly to the success of the team.

As Coach Miller says, Football always has been and always will be a true test of courage."

We had a Junior Varsity Water Polo Team this year — the first in three years. It was funded by the Booster Club.

"The J.V. is young and inexperienced but it is spirit and hardwork that paid off this season, and will next season." As put by Coach Dick Draz.

The season started tough, giving the J.V. an 0-2 record for non-league games. The young inexperienced team won the next four of five league games.

There were 14 players on the J.V. Squad. Two of them were hard working ladies; Noelle Bahnmler and Kellie Rainey. The goalie was Dave Overton. Some outstanding J.V. players were: Mike Nichols, Rusty Jones, Scott McClaren, Ricky Simpson, Marc Channick, Frank Caramagna, Kevin Walsh and Robby Furlow.

The team's spirit and hardwork ended a very successful season.

1. Back row: John Rabin. Third row: Craig Hetz, Coach Draz. Second row: Ricky Simpson, Scott Madler, Brian Zender, Garner Swann. Front row: Mike Allen, Devin Breise, Robert Rainey and Scott Phelps.

2. Marc Channick leads the J.V. on a fast break.

3. The J.V. protects the goal with shielding defense.

4. Back row: Rusty Jones. Third row: Tim Harward, Mike Nichols, Frank Caramagna, Noelle Bahnmler. Second row: David Overton, Robby Furlow, Marc Channick, Coach Draz, Kellie Rainey, Mike Rankin, Kevin Walsh. First row: Scott McClaren, Milton Beope, David Hughes and Darren Gifford.

"Team work will tell how far we will go." This was a quote from Coach Dick Draz about the varsity water polo team. The varsity team worked hard under the coaching of Dick Draz and assistant Jeff Hanle. The water polo team started practice just before school ended in 1984 and continued through the summer. They were in a club called the U.S. Water Polo Club in which the team name was C-Horse.

The 1984 Crawford League team was made up of 10 players and 2 swingers. A swinger is a player who plays either J.V. or varsity, depending on where the coaches need them. The two swingers were Rusty Jones and Frank Carmagna. There were six returning letterman: Brian Zender, Scott Phelps, Scott Madler, Mike Allen, John Rabin and Devin Breise the goalie. These returning were starters, with either Garner Swan or Craig Hetz being the 7th starter.

Our water polo team traveled to Long Beach for a tournament September 13-15, then again from September 20-22. Both were top ranked water polo non-league tournaments where the team met other top-ranked teams in the country. In the first tournament they finished 11th of 32 teams, and 18th of 32 teams in the second tournament.

Crawford's league opener was against Helix, in which they won 18-8. Then they played tough Coronado and won the competition by one goal.

Enthusiasm and team work ended a successful water polo season.

2. John Rabin looks to pass the ball.

4. Coach Draz contemplates the game.

The Junior Varsity Football Team, led by Coach Chris Graham, was physically and mentally ready to start the football season. They started practice in August with the varsity football team, to build their skills.

The team consisted of 35 players, all of whom aided in giving the team a 6-2-1 record overall, and second place in league competition. The J.V. handled Mission Bay easily, beating them 22-0. They also continued the tradition of beating Hoover, by scoring 33 points and leaving Hoover with zero at the end of the game.

Some outstanding players on the team were: Paul Franklin, Todd Bader, Randy Johnson, Pat McGriff, and Joe Hicks, all playing both offense and defense. Rodney Ray on defense and Troy Purdie on offense also played a big part on the team.

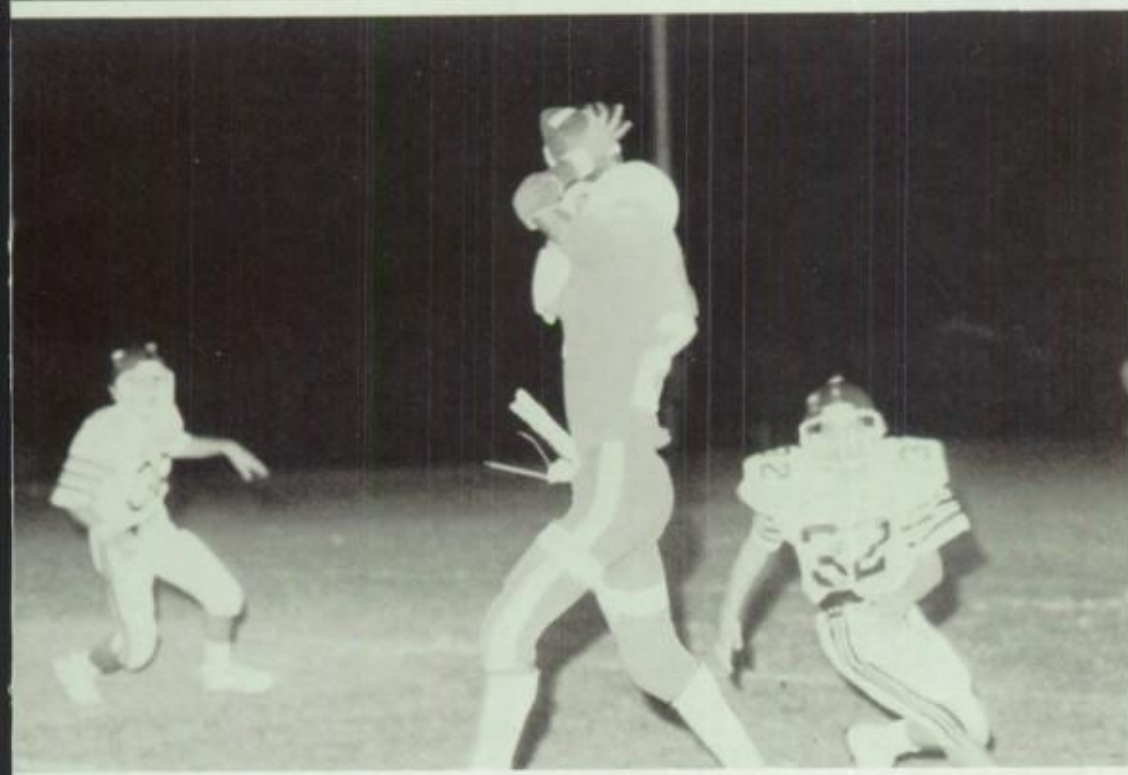

Coach Chris Graham said, "The surest way to win is to physically and mentally defeat, out-hustle and out-hit your opponent."

Both varsity and junior varsity had successful seasons. Varsity's record was 9-1 which led them to C.I.F. Junior varsity ended their season with a 2-8 record.

The varsity volleyball team began their practice early in September. Coach Cicchetto assisted by Debbie Lowe, led the team to an outstanding season. The highlight of the year was the exciting victory over the highly rated Christian Patriots. After losing the first two games to the Patriots, the determined Colts fought back to win the next three and the match!

Susan Milton, the captain of the team, was also the only returning varsity player. Other standouts were Paula Ann Bayles and Karla Salmi.

Junior Varsity showed much enthusiasm in the way they played and also in supporting the varsity team at their games. Headed by captain Lynette Ingraham, they prepared for a tough season. Many of the junior varsity players are looking forward to contributing to next years varsity team.

The Cross-Country team didn't forget what they were made of. They really gave it their all, running an average of four miles a day. It took a lot of dedication and will power from these running Colts. Under the guidance of Coach Nelson, they were encouraged to go for it all. Coach Nelson felt this year's team was the best in five years. They proved it by winning most of the meets they attended, and glowing with a spirit of pride, and an attitude of winning.

Bryan Harris, a Senior, and Rita DelRio, a Sophomore, led the team to become one of the best in the county. Grueling effort and nerve-racking concentration made this year's Cross-Country team one to remember!

The Boys' Wrestling Team seemed to have winning in a head-lock. Out of the many wins throughout the season, one of the most important was over Clairemont on Dec. 12. Although the score didn't look promising in the beginning, our Colts stuck it out till the end and won the match.

Some returning wrestlers were John Fine at 141 pounds, Chris Hall at 138 pounds, and Harold Christiansen at 126 pounds. They, along with the rest of the team, practiced painfully to become one of the best teams in the county.

The Boys' Soccer Team started the year off with a bang. Their victory over LaJolla Country Day showed they had what it takes. Their coach, Marion McAnear thought it was an important win because of LaJolla's reputation as a good soccer team.

Some important returning players who were also Seniors, were Rick Anderson, team captain and forward, Phi Trang, who also played forward, and Tim Staninger, who was goalie. These 'veterans' enriched the team and taught new players how to master the game.

Their long practices after school and ambition won them the championship by a wide margin and established them as one of the best soccer teams in Crawford's history.

Girls' Soccer began their strenuous workouts early in November. New Head Coach Noreen Cicchetto worked hard with her team every day during sixth period to bring it to its fullest potential.

Returning to the team from last year was Jenelle Robinson, Lisa Estrella, Michelle Chan, Kim Shaw, Kim Bayles, Jenny Deason and Susan Milton.

In the first game of the year, these girls led by Captain Susan Milton and Co-captain Christy Ellis, defeated the Kearny Komets 3 to 1. This win sparked a season of enthusiasm and anticipation for those dedicated Colts.

The girls' soccer team has been in existence for only two years. But with hard work and dedication, they proved that they could put together a winning team. A team that showed true Crawford spirit.

The Boys' Varsity Basketball started the season with great optimism. The team was rated in the pre-season and opened on a good note. There were only two returning Varsity players: Senior, Cliff Sullivan and Junior, Mark Hayes. Many athletes came to the Varsity Squad from a championship J.V. team.

The Junior Varsity Boys' Basketball team won their league last year with a 9-1 record. They were ready and anxious for this year's season to begin.

With the scoring of Juniors Pat Reyes and Joe Hicks and the outstanding support of Dewey Brown, Anthony Coronado, Hung Oung and Brett Cook, the J.V. took third in the Chula Vista J.V. Tournament.

The J.V. team coached by Robert Harutunian, beat both Hilltop and Chula Vista in the tournament. They beat Hilltop by 30 points and Chula Vista by 20 points, but lost a close game to highly regarded Sweetwater by 8 points.

Both teams ended their season with commendable records.

Under the leadership of Coach Tom Medigovich, the girls' varsity team looked strong. They worked hard everyday sometimes from 2-4 p.m., other times 6-8 p.m. They had two returning varsity players, Shannon Anderson (captain) and Shawndel Reddic (co-captain).

Varsity began league play with wins against tough competition, El Capitan, Helix and La Jolla just to name a few. The team was gifted with many first year varsity players who played well both offensively and defensively. Such players included Bernie Mejia, Joyce Brophy, Paula Ann Bayles, and Utahna McClain. Juniors Lori Marinelli, Charlotte Verdin and Sophomore Karla Salmi.

Debbie Lowe, an alumni of Crawford, coached the junior varsity girls. They also began their season well with a win against El Capitan. Overall both teams worked very hard striving to be their best, with some of the junior varsity players looking forward to contributing on next year's varsity team.

The Boys' Swim Team has always had successful seasons. The 1985 season was no exception. Coach Draz molded a strong team with swimmers and divers like Brian Zender, John Rabin, Robert Rainey and Craig Hetz. Some of the swimmers continued after the regular season ended to compete in the CIF championships.

The team worked out every day. Morning practices before school and afternoon practices were a must.

Competition during meets is, at first, an individual competition, but as the meet progresses, it becomes a team competition. There were also some divers on the team. They practiced daily on their form and poise to strive for that perfect 10. Way to go Colts!

Late in February, the Girls' Swim Team started their rough conditioning with high hopes of another successful year. During this time, some of these competitive Colts would work out from six to seven o'clock in the morning (which was not mandatory) and for two strenuous hours after school. Practices were hard work, but fifth year coach Noreen Cicchetto was determined to bring the girls' swim team to top shape, in order to have another successful season.

Three year varsity players included Laura McLaren, Utahna McClain, Jenelle Robinson, and Marcia Zipp. These ladies contributed greatly to the newcomers and their expertise paid off.

League meets were tough, but the Colts really put a new meaning into teamwork and competition. Way to swim girls!

Although golf is a very quiet sport, it requires just as much dedication and enthusiasm as any other — maybe even more so. Precise strategy is required for a satisfactory putt, and that is what this year's golf team delivered.

Practice was held during sixth period at the Navajo Canyon Golf Course. Returning players were Phil Tex and John Murphy. These Seniors helped new players while doing something they enjoyed. Their most important tournament was against San Diego — not only because it started CIF play-offs, but because they were tough competition and we beat 'em!

BOYS TENNIS AS MASHING SEASON

The Boys' Tennis Team coached by Jim Sams started practice on Feb. 11, in preparation for league competition. The team's toughest opponents were St. Augustine and Christian. Our Colts were a favored contender for the league championship.

Some outstanding returning varsity lettermen were Scott Phelps, Quoc Vo, and Julio Rojas. Scott Phelps played the number one singles and Mike Silva number two singles.

The contributions from everyone on the team resulted in a fine season.

The Softball Team was like one, big, happy family. There was a certain feeling of friendship as they beat almost every team they played. As Coach Karen Lozier said, "Their hot!" Her girls didn't let her down, being top contenders for defending league champs. Their most important game was against Christian on April 16th.

Although most of them were returning players, and all were outstanding in Coach Lozier's eyes, Shannon Anderson and Gena Crise were named as most valuable players. Their unbelievable pep, along with the rest of the team's, made both Varsity and Junior Varsity, teams hard to forget,

With many returning players our Badminton team was considered to be one of the best in the County. Coach Harutunian felt that this year's team has a very good chance of competing with the four top teams in the County.

Hien Tran was the number one boys player. Nong Luangviseth and Pane Luangviseth, who both transferred to Crawford this year, were top players both in singles and in doubles. Matthew Tom, Tuan Huynh and Jane Steele also played important roles on the team and aided Crawford in becoming one of the strongest badminton teams in the County.

The Varsity Baseball team coached by Roger Engle was a young team with many players coming up from last year's J.V. team.

The Colts were ready this year to strip Hoover of the league championship. The team was entered into two varsity tournaments. Both tournaments had top ranked teams. Our Colts finished in the top four in both of the tournaments.

There were only three returning varsity lettermen they were: Todd Armer, Rick Anderson and Scott Northeimer. This team proved to be a tough match for competitors.

Track is more than a sport. It's a way of thinking — an attitude changing experience. Extra attention must be paid to the proper care and tuning of the arms and legs. The Track team fulfilled all these needs. No, they weren't ready for the Olympics, but they pros just the same, pushing themselves to the outer limit.

Outstanding returning participants were Anthony Faucette, Phyllis Ruffin, Damion Cormier, and Christie Ferguson. These competitors along with the rest of the team, put in as much as they could to make the most of this year's Track team. Although Track was divided into Boys' and Girls' teams, they all worked side by side, running, long jumping, pole vaulting, high jumping, discus throwing, and shot putting, to distinguish themselves as a cut above the rest.

FACULTY

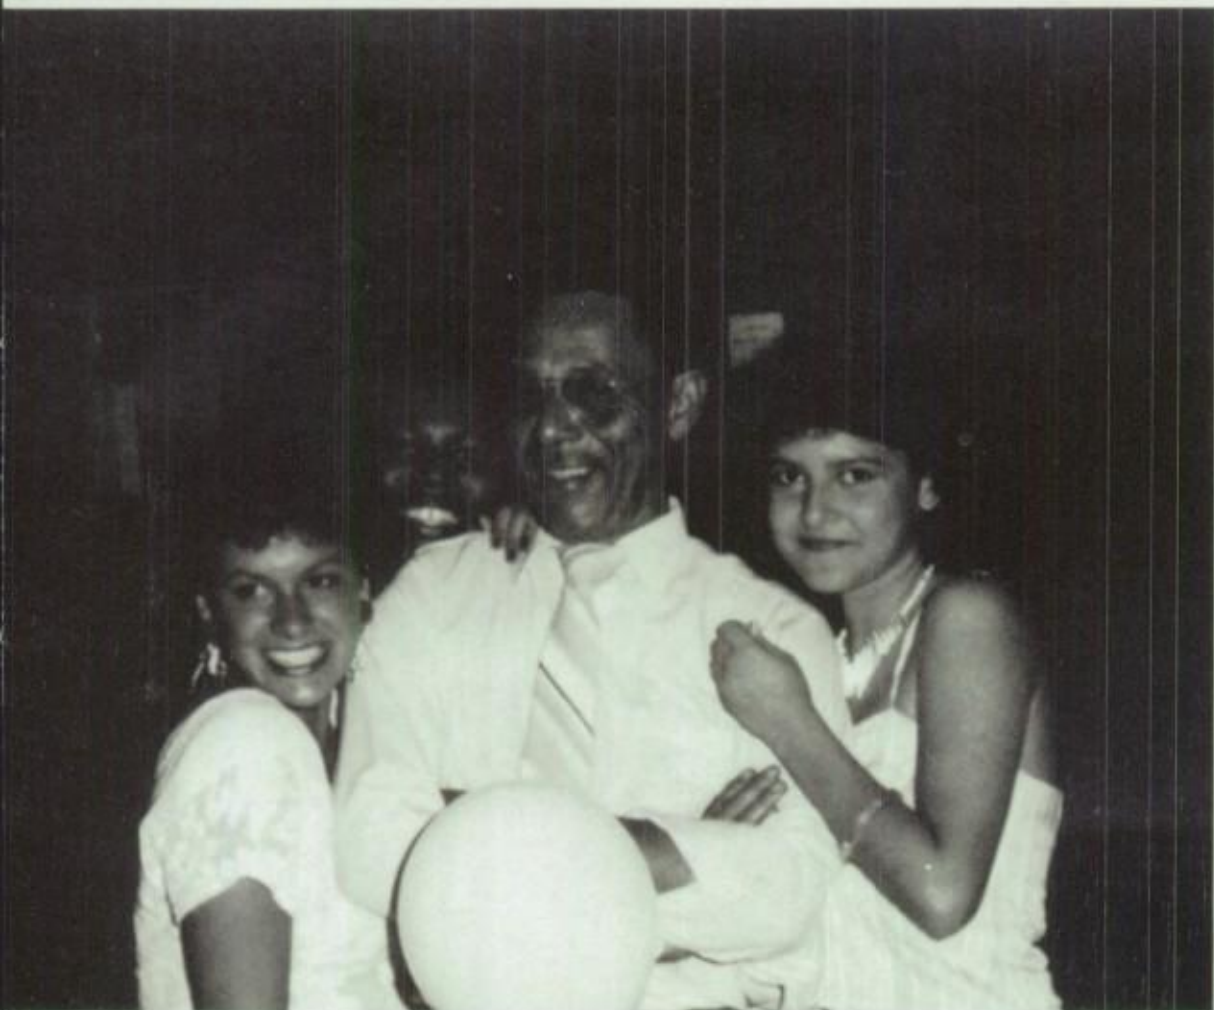

Many changes occurred in the staffing of Crawford High School. Additional faculty and staff were utilized to implement new and growing programs on our campus. This enabled faculty and staff to continue support of students by coaching athletic teams, chaperoning dances, attending activities, and advising clubs.

In the administration, Mr. Fox was promoted to Operations Manager of Area 4, and Crawford was privileged to have Barbara Brooks take over as (acting) principal of Crawford High School.

Thank you staff and faculty for being the best a school could ask for. You made our years at Crawford High School memorable ones.

Principal's Message

Frequently, I express how privileged I feel to have the opportunity to work with the Crawford High School Community. It has been my honor to serve as Principal for the past four years and my enthusiasm remains undiminished. In fact, my respect for this staff and the school in general continually grows as a result of a cooperative, successful effort to provide a quality educational program for all students. Crawford High School has genuinely high standards rather than minimum and I salute the staff, students and parents for their dedication to excellence.

Congratulations to the class of 1985. We are proud of your accomplishments and pleased that you have fulfilled the promise demonstrated during your high school years at Crawford High School. Best wishes in your future endeavors.

Editor's Note: Mr. Fox was promoted to Operations Manager, Area 4. He left Crawford mid-year to assume his new position at the District Office.

SENIORS

The Senior class of 1985 was one of the most exciting and enthusiastic classes in the history of Crawford High School. It was a class that was united in everything from the support of football games to the attendance at the Senior Prom.

The class of 1985 was a class that was best known for its spirit. Competition between themselves and other classes was very evident. Seniors excelled in sports as well as academics.

Some awards in which they received or took part in were the league championship in volleyball, football, cross-country (boys' and girls') and water polo. There were also speech, mathematics, english comprehension and science awards.

Truly we must say that the Senior Class of nineteen hundred eighty five will definitely be one of the most memorable classes in the history and future of Crawford High School. Yes, the "class of '85 is (and always will be) live!!!"

Homecoming Spirit Led to Victory

Homecoming was one of the biggest events of the year. And so, Seniors took time in selecting the court that would bring out the true Homecoming Spirit. There was a whole week filled with activities and excitement. Tuesday morning, at the Donut Dunk'em, the Senior Court was announced: Princes —

Larry Coover, Brian Garner, and Darrick West; Princesses — Veronica Cano, Suzette Leyba, and Melinda Meza. During Friday's rally at lunch students voted for their Homecoming King and Queen. They were announced later that evening at the football game as Darrick West and Suzette Leyba. After winning the game, the Homecoming dance added the final touches to a picture perfect week.

A.S.B. Set Goals

The A.S.B. Senior Cabinet consisted of Jenelle Robinson, Pres.; Regina Silva, Vice Pres.; Utahna McClain, Sec.; and Jeff Lewis, Treas. They worked diligently to raise money for all the end of the year activities — the Prom, Grad Night, and the Graduation exercises.

To get the seniors more involved, a competition between the boys and girls was tied in with the sale of the World's Finest Chocolate. This was the major fund raiser of the year, and more than doubled the Seniors' account. Whatever the Senior Class Officers planned, it was with one goal in mind, to produce the most memorable year possible.

Lunchtime Was for Socializing

Seniors always had something to do during lunch. The thirty minutes didn't seem to be a sufficient amount of time to accomplish all of the options. A majority of the Seniors chose to go off campus to one of the popular fast food restaurants close by. Some brown bagged it, others feasted on the food school provided in the cafeteria or express stop.

Satisfying one's hunger was not the only thing on the mind of Seniors at lunch. There were class competitions, rallies and various club meetings. Not only did they need a break and were hungry but they wanted to socialize!

Dr. Dean Took the Stage

Dr. Dean's performances have been a tradition for many years. It's one of the activities everyone looked forward to because of the excitement. Dr. Dean led many seniors into crazy antics; from Peter the Rabbit and Ballet dancers to impersonations of the most and least favorite teachers.

Seniors in the audience laughed constantly. They enjoyed watching their friends make fools of themselves. It didn't really matter whether you were in the audience or on the stage, it was definitely an exciting evening.

Senior Athletes Excelled

Seniors participated in every league sport this year. There was some rough competition but the Colts pulled through. All the athletes put forth their best effort and strove for excellence to bring their teams victory.

One of the many sports that won a Central League Banner this year was football. For the first time in 23 years the Varsity Colts put together experience, skill, and determination to achieve the goal. A few of the other league champs consisted of volleyball, cross-country, and water polo. Whichever sport the Seniors competed in, it wasn't whether they won or lost, it was how they played the game, and they were great.

Seniors Sharpened Their Study Habits

Seniors had many decisions to make this year. A major one was "What college should I go to" or "Should I go to college?" Those that chose to apply to a university were busy studying to achieve a high score on the SAT or the ACT and completing their college applications. Those who chose not to attend college were planning future jobs and applying the skills they learned in high school.

As their senior year progressed, a major epidemic went around known as Senioritis. This was an obsession which affected the Seniors' willingness to work and study. Whether they furthered their education with college or pursued a job, seniors had many decisions to make.

Seniors Socialized

Everyone knows there wouldn't be much of an incentive to attend school without the precious moments of socializing. Seniors utilized every spare moment in an effort to create, build and continue their friendships. Lunch was a great social hour, it was a time when the various cliques and groups "hung out" together, each a different section of the quad.

Before school was also a perfect time to chat. Circles of Seniors could be found almost everywhere around campus. Though Seniors seemed to be constantly talking they didn't have enough time to say all there was to be said.

Class Competitions Sparked Enthusiasm

Seniors united against Juniors and Sophomores for each class competition. Spirited Seniors volunteered to participate in the various activities. Some of the more popular ones were the Car Cram, Marshmallow Eating, and Bubblegum Blowing. The thrill of victory and the excitement of teaming up against others drew Seniors to compete.

Those who were not competing were just as important as those who were. The Seniors on the sidelines became the cheering section. These students encouraged fellow classmates not only to try their best but to win. Whether they were doing the cheering or being cheered, Seniors participated in Class Competitions with great enthusiasm.

As their high school career came to an end, so did a chapter in their lives. This year's Seniors will be next year's adults, with that comes many responsibilities. These responsibilities were met with both excitement and fear.

Some Seniors looked into the future and saw themselves in college. Others thought they would pursue job opportunities. No matter what the future held for them, they would always look back at Crawford with something to remember.

1. The Alma Mater will always be something to remember.

Juniors

The Junior class was filled with enthusiasm and spirit. Throughout the year Juniors got up early and stayed late on school days to make the best of school. Academically speaking the Junior year in high school is probably the toughest. The Junior class achieved in academics and were also able to participate in sports and clubs. Life as a Junior is like being between lost in a new school and having Senioritis.

The class of '86 really proved themselves to be a true class of Crawford High. GOOD LUCK CLASS OF '86!!!

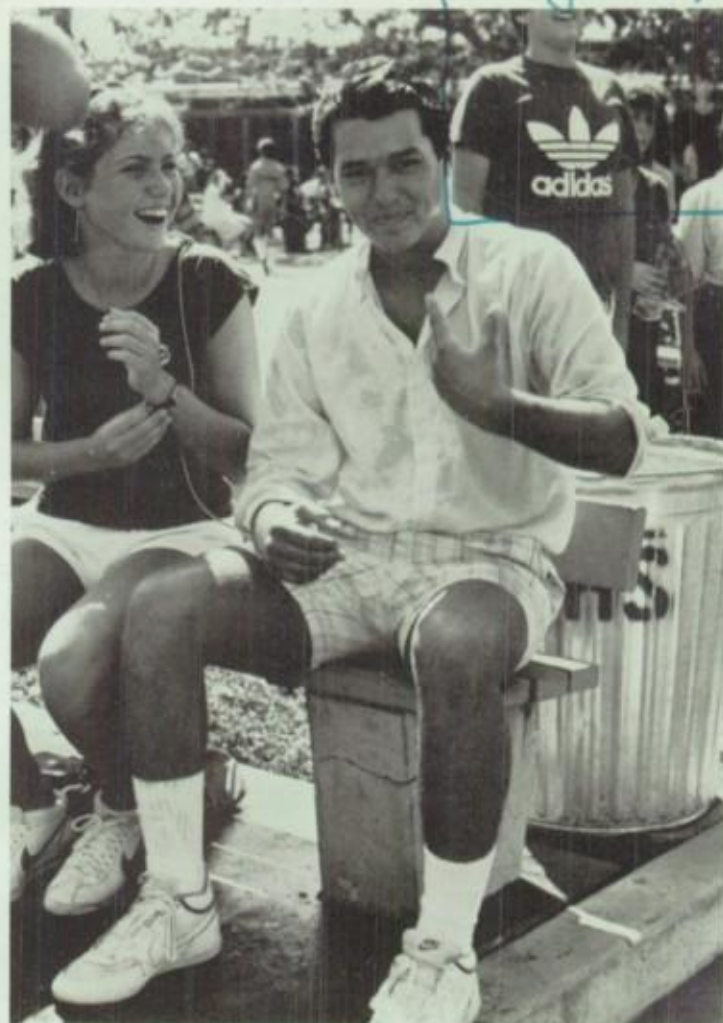

1. A group of Junior girls eat lunch in the quad.
2. Dawn Erickson, Veronica Esparza, Maritza Briz, and Tim Tschetter having a good time.
3. Revetal Goldwasser laughs at the wet Paul Northelmer.
4. Shauna Strong and Ann Marie Schumann talk with Mr. Fox and Mr. Blackburn.
5. Students talk after school.

They Helped Us Out

Staff and students at Crawford have always gotten along. The teachers weren't there only to teach you, but also to be a friend. Teachers really got a big kick out of sharing things with the students that could help them in life. We owe a lot to our teachers, they wanted to and did help us out.

1. Mr. Walter Fairley helps A.S.B. students Maritza Briz and Veronica Esparza solve a problem.

Life at Crawford has always been unique. The way you dressed expressed your personality, with such designers as: Willi Smith, Norma, Kamali, Jean Paul Gaultier and Claude Montana and stores like; The Limited, Nordstroms, Neiman Marcus and Judy's, we couldn't help but to stay in style. There's no denying that the juniors did show 'em how.

1. Mark Gergen, Bobby Townsend, Paul Sammoun and Paul Northheimer show that jeans and tennis shoes go with everything.

2. Mark Burlaza and Lynette Ingraham show Jeff Elkin their legs.

SOPHOMORES

The class of '87 was truly an exciting one. The first day of school was probably the toughest for most of them. Being the lowest person on the totem pole was hard for everyone, but the youngsters proved to be really on top of things.

Spirit was something that really flew high to these newcomers. They were the ones who really stood behind what they had said.

For the most part, Sophomores had just arrived to a new school that they really didn't know much about. They had to find their way to classes not even knowing where the classrooms were. Many of these students were involved in sports, organizations, and other activities.

The highpoint of their year was probably beating the Seniors in the Homecoming Float competition. They also gave the Seniors a tough run for their money during class competitions.

The class of '87 was a class, that was truly enthusiastic. WAY TO GO COLTS!!!

1. A group of Sophomores attend the football game.
2. Rose Bayles, Pat Piña, and Tony White await for the Prince and Princess.
3. Jeff Moren and Nicey Sampson pose for the picture.
4. Beth Lowe and Mike Nichols discuss the problems of the day at lunch.
5. Sophomores gather in the quad for lunch.

Officers Made This Year

On October 5, 1984 the sophomore class elected their officers. Rose Bayles was chosen president; Christina Trainor, vice president; Jenny Sterns, secretary; and Joaquin Sanchez, treasurer. They got a great year started and made it memorable for all. They planned sales such as the kiss-o-grams and class competitions, such as the make-up your man. They worked with members of the ASB and scheduled activities for all to enjoy! The soph officers really made it something to remember.

1. President, Rosemary Bayles; vice president, Christina Trainor; secretary, Jennifer Sterns; and treasurer, Joaquin Sanchez.

All sophomores had the same thought as the big night approached, "the sophomore float never wins!" This year the sophomores proved that thought wrong. The butterfly was let loose and turned out to win the float competition. In its fully red, white, and blue attire the sophomore float couldn't be beat! This was only the beginning of sophomore festivities! The real thrill came with the duke, Randy Johnson, and the dutchess, Kim McClees. As the night went off, up up and away, sophomores were right on top.

1. Sophomores on the float cheer the butterfly through the night.
2. Kim McClees smiles after being announced sophomore dutchess by Paula Ann Bayles at the Donut Dunk'em.

School days were longer than ever before, but spirit was higher. All year Sophomores showed their spirit at games, class competitions, and especially at rallies. Lou Coons and Gustavo Estolano led that spirit! At the CIF rally they were presented with spirit sticks and the title of "most spirited Sophomores!"

All through the year people talked about how great Crawford High really is and this kind of spirit helped the long day go by much quicker and easier!

1. The J.V. cheerleaders show off their newest pyramid during the CIF rally.
2. Gustavo Estolano looks hungrily at his large pie.

ADVERTISING

The Centaur Staff sold advertising to local businesses and to parents. Special messages and write-ups were offered to Seniors and to their parents. Advertising really helped to defray the cost of the Centaur. Thanks to all of the supporters of the advertising section for helping to make the Centaur a memorable one.

P.S. Hi Annette and Add-a-baby!!!

"We have a natural right to make use of our pens as of our tongue, at our peril, risk, and hazard."

Voltaire (1694-1778)

Kim, I'm glad we had a chance to get to know each other a little better because you are an interesting person. Won't forget the things we talked about in Mrs. Heyers class - pretty bizarre. Mrs. Heyer thinks so, anyway. I can imagine what she thinks about all of us. Probably won't see you in 10 yrs around very much - but I'll see you in a real trip at our Reunion - that'll be a real trip!

Good Luck!

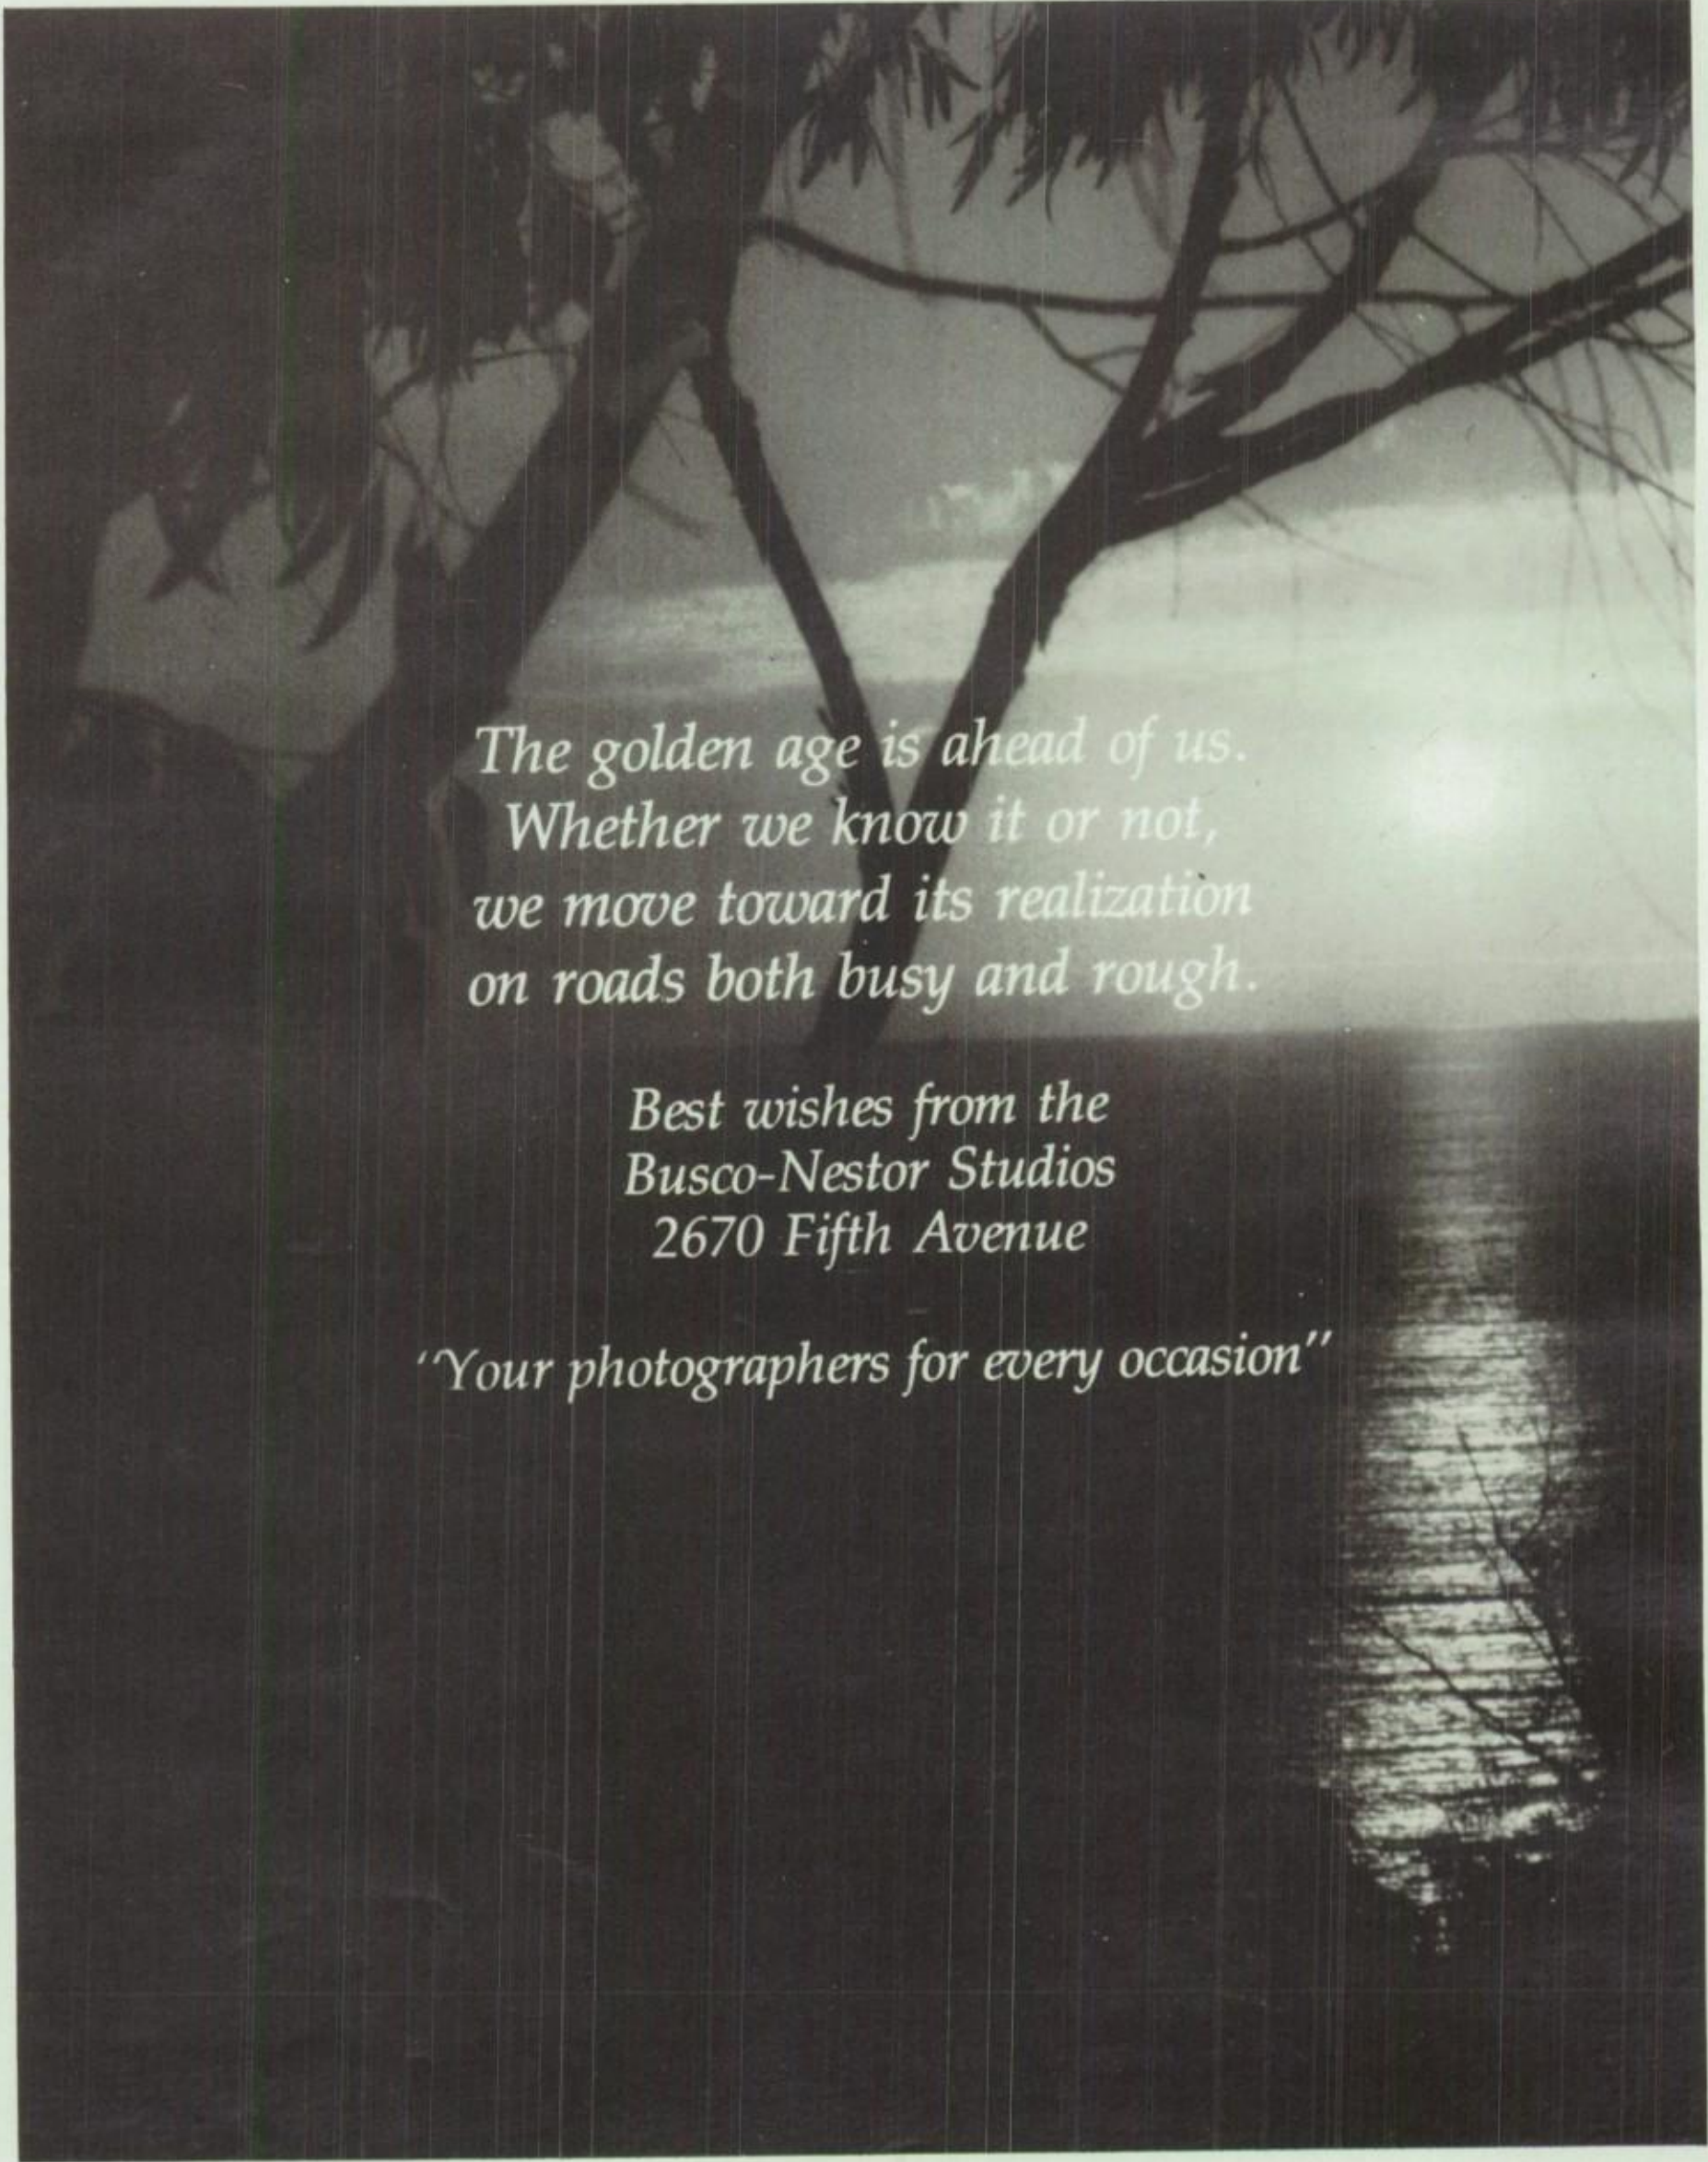

Kristen

P.S. Do you remember when we had Mr. Billings in 10th grade, and we sorta got into an argument? Ha!

PROUD OF YOU

Yes, we were proud of you in elementary school at your awards ceremony (fidgeting around on the stage and not paying attention).

Yes, we were proud of you in Junior High School at the Honor Society awards (pushing people around on stage, making sure all were in line).

Yes, we were proud of you in High School, working in the ASB, playing hard at volleyball and swimming hard for the team, organizing float meetings and the Hawaii trip (and generally having your nose in everything).

BUT, this time we really are proud of you, because all that time you were developing into a SPECIAL, BEAUTIFUL and VERY NICE PERSON.

Mac & Mom

P.S. Love Ya!!!

1985 Was Definitely "Something to Remember!"

Bruce Meyer

As we look back at the 1984-85 school year many feelings and memories come to mind. Thoughts of academics triggered both good and bad feelings. Thoughts of those late Thursday evenings studying for tests, last minute term papers that were put together in a matter of hours, and projects and reports that many dreaded flashed through our minds. Then there were those Mondays that you came to school and couldn't believe that you really received an "A" on that test; there were also days when you couldn't wait for class competitions or club meetings. Then again, some Mondays arrived and you wished that there were no such things as Mondays.

Social activities and athletics provided opportunity for students to be involved.

The Class of 1985 had many year end activities in which to participate. Such activities included the Senior Luncheon, Grad Nite, Commencement, and of course the Senior Prom. Memories of these events were very special to Seniors.

Seniors were faced with the problem of the future. Some students continued their education in college or the military. Other students went into vocational and technical training schools, and some entered the world of work, taking on a full time job.

Sophomores and Juniors experienced a different kind of excitement — the thrill of a year ending and a summer about to begin. Many would work during the summer and others just would kick back and enjoy their "vacation."

All students whether they were a Sophomore, Junior or Senior had many special moments and memories. These memories will be cherished for years to come.

Throughout this edition of the Centaur, we hope that you have felt a sense of belongingness and joy. Truly, the 1984-85 school year at Will C. Crawford High School was definitely "Something To Remember." Good-bye Colts!!!

1. Excitement covers the faces of the Water Polo Team during CIF.

2. Elise Heilbrunn, Dean Bole are coming on to campus and are stopped by Julie Wallace.

3. A great crowd gathers at the football game to cheer on our team.

4. All the "bikers" at Crawford, can really relate to this crowded site.

5. Linda Hasman, Elizabeth Kohen, Heidi Gibbs, Michelle Montague, and Brian Quincey enjoy a lunchtime relaxing.

6. Students sit on the benches reading a favorite magazine — The Pacer.

The 1985 Centaur Staff would like to express their deepest appreciation to the following people for helping make the 28th Edition of the Centaur a success.

Cleo? Whatever Kim -

This year just flew on by - really, it's too bad about the cat, er, sorry. Anyway, life goes on, in Arizona or anywhere else. Holy bad handwriting! Well, you will be only a stones throw from my holy home, so don't be such a stranger. Although strange tends to be your style.

Take care - & Be careful Joan

Kimberly,
 God! Plaid! Oh. Just kidding.
 Well, what can I say, huh? Words escape me. You are truly an original, and a very special person. Get a scooter, eh? I might consider that. Whenever the glove compartment breaks, I'll know its time to trash the car.
 Have a great summer in Holland - I expect a postcard! Best of luck in the future.

Love,

Eric
